Gambling... entertainment and recreation for most...

A personal crisis for some.

A Gambler's Story

After a year, thousands in debt and not knowing how I would pay it off, I was at the breaking point. On a Sunday afternoon, my wife and daughter were at church. I lay down on the bed with a .22 bolt-action rifle in one hand and a .22 hollow-point bullet in the other.

It came to me that killing myself would be wrong. I thought: "You may take your life, but what you're doing will affect your daughter and your wife. Someday, someone will come up to my daughter and say, 'Your daddy killed himself because he was a compulsive gambler'"

One of the hottest topics in behavioral health clinics today is the emerging concern for the issue of gambling pathology and its devastating personal, familial and societal impact.
